

DESCRIPTION

Promethean KUNO is more than a tablet; it is a 1:1 mobile learning system built for the classroom. Robust tools ensure students' safety and offer simple, centralized configuration and device management. Built-in student response software provides insight into student progress for more informed teaching and learning.

SYSTEM OVERVIEW

Promethean Manage	Promethean Manage allows IT administrators and teachers to manage devices from a secure portal for easy distribution of content, applications and updates across a district, school, grade level, or class.
Promethean ActivEngage2	Promethean ActivEngage2 student response software enables teachers to track student comprehension at an individual level and intervene or adapt the lesson accordingly.
Secure web filter	Secure web filter embedded at the root level ensures safe internet use and CIPA (Children's Internet Protection Act) compliance at all times.
Customized mobile operating interface	Customized mobile operating interface transforms the device into a student tool, enabling them to quickly access their files and only the applications and content they need for their individual courses.
Rugged case with flip stand/cover	Rugged case protects against wear and tear, shields the screen when the device is not in use, and functions as a tablet stand to optimize viewing angle on a desk or other surface.
